

THE GETAWAY

An abundance of storage, ample living space and country road suspension – the Paramount Micro Max is a fantastic caravan for first time buyers

Paramount Caravan's tradition of providing a great Aussie caravan for 15 years continues and the past 12 months has been an exciting year, with the release of the brand new Micro Max caravan. Sitting at only 15'6", this compact caravan is great for people dreaming of hitting the road, but are uncomfortable towing a larger van.

The practical interior design of the Paramount Micro Max means RVers can have a practical kitchen, full ensuite and luxurious innerspring queen bed, while still having an abundance of storage and ample living space. On the exterior, you'll note 2.5T AL-KO Enduro Outback suspension, combined with an F+P Chassis and A/T tyres, allowing vanners to reach those campsites that blacktop tourers couldn't. Of course what sets the Micro Max apart is Paramount's after care service, with a dedicated support centre for anyone from first-time buyers to aftermarket advice. When travelling with a Paramount Micro Max, you'll be travelling with the confidence knowing you're towing a product that's backed 100% by the manufacturer.

DEVOTION TO CUSTOMER SERVICE

One of the best features of a Paramount caravan is the specialised aftermarket care you will receive. With a dedicated online support service that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week, Paramount customers can now connect with a trained professional on any smart phone, PC or tablet with any questions or concerns they may have. Paramount have also created an online warranty and repairs system, for when those unavoidable accidents happen on the road. There's even a contact for new vanners, to provide support and guide them towards the best purchase possible. Owning a Paramount caravan means you're always covered.

LOW WEIGHT, VERSATILE TOURER

Due to its compact size and low weight, the Paramount Micro Max is one of the most versatile tourers as you will feel right at home at that secluded free camp or gorgeous coastal caravan park. Protected by 600mm high black chequer plating, you can easily take the Micro down those bumpy country roads without the threat of stone damage. Once you've found your campsite, two 95L water tanks and two 120Ah AGM batteries will keep you supplied with enough water and power to last you days and when you're done exploring your surroundings, you can come back to your home away from home and relax with perfect reception, thanks to the standard inclusion of a Winegard HV Sensor roof mounted wind-up antenna.

Basically every vanner on the road, after a long day, loves to come home to a hot shower, so of course the Paramount Micro has a hot water system. However, what sets this one apart is that it's an Atwood non-anode hot water system. This means the sacrificial element of the system has been removed, saving you hundreds of dollars in servicing and replacement parts.

RV PROFILE

PARAMOUNT MICRO MAX

THIS RV IS PERFECT FOR

- Anyone seeking short-term free camping adventures
- Couples wanting a compact, lightweight caravan
- RVers who love a practical and smartly designed van

Great for those travelling gourmets, the Micro Max comes with a practical kitchen, equipped with a stove top and grill, microwave and massive 218L fridge! The stainless steel sink comes with separate filtered drinking water tap and everything is smartly finished with a marble/laminate veneer, so it's super easy to keep clean.

The Paramount Micro Max features an abundance of smart design storage, which will be greatly appreciated by any vanner. Walking through you'll find split wardrobes on either side of the queen bed, plenty of overhead cupboards throughout the entire van and the queen bed lifts up on gas struts to reveal even more space.
