In some vans, the kitchen can be compact at best and cramped at worst. In the Patriot SEL-X the kitchen is strategically designed to accommodate three slide-out pantries, a massive 190L fridge and spacious club-lounge dining with tri-fold table. The Swift 500 Series stove and oven are the ideal balance of efficiency and practicality – with the versatility of gas and electric stove and fan forced oven you can cook up a storm in any conditions. Full height splashbacks complete the stylish kitchen look and they're practical too, being easy to clean.

DESIGNED FOR TOUGH OFF-ROAD USE

Sunland ensure every detail is right for any off-road situation and they achieve this by designing and constructing their own lightweight and super strong aluminium chassis. Sunland construct every chassis in Australia in their sophisticated workshop and this means they can consider each individual component during the construction process. Water tanks are mounted to fit around the chassis thus offering maximum clearance while keeping the weight over the axles. Extra care is taken to route wires and plumbing through the chassis to avoid damage.

ULTIMATE REMOTE TOURER

The list of features on the Patriot SEL-X plus Option Pack is the stuff free camping dreams are made of. This van literally has everything. The two 200 lithium batteries and four 180W solar panels provide you with literally limitless power. Then there's the ATX airbag suspension which you can control by remote – making it so simple to adjust your suspension for driving conditions. You've also got wood storage on the aluminium A-frame, a slide-out BBQ and rear service hatch, so you won't need to worry about access for repairs. Sunland have even included a rubbish chute! Have you ever heard of that on a van? To top it all off, they've added a positive air pressure unit which pressurises the cabin while you're in transit, so no dust can get in. There is not one thing Sunland have left out of this Patriot SEL-X and the special, introductory price of $159,990 tow away is an absolute steal for everything you're getting.

Controlled by the Giant Power 12V system are the roof mounted solar panels that automatically lift up. Flat house panels only work at roughly 70% efficiency, because they're angled to the sun. By being able to angle your house panels at the push of the button, you can get very close to the magic 100% efficiency mark. It is this innovative design that makes this Patriot van one of the most advanced, and practical free camping vans available.
